Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS PLAN YEAR'S WORK

Board of Directors Holds Monthly Meeting Last Night—Doing Great Service for Soldiers

Plans for the coming year's work and the membership campaign were begun at the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the local Y. M. C. A. held last night. The meeting was largely attended by the various officers of the association and a very gratifying condition of affairs. It is the desire of the officers to make the association work one special interest and service to the community. For the past year the "Y" has stressed its service to soldiers and sailors, and as "Red Triangle" headquarters in this city has been the real haven for the many uniformed men who come here.

The attendance of soldiers at the building is increasing each day. The dormitory rooms are well patronized. One night recently, over thirty men in uniform were housed in the building and given every accommodation possible. Some were obliged to sleep on the floor, but the soldier boys found that far from being any hardship. The baths and swimming tank are also being used by the military. C. R. Bearmore and his staff to make them feel welcome and at home.

JANESVILLE SOLDIER WRITES FROM FRANCE

Burnett McDermid, former Janesville Young Man, writes interesting letter from Over There.

Burnett McDermid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Agnes McDermid, 550 North Pearl street, has written a very interesting letter to his folks from France telling them of what is going on over there at the present time.

Private McDermid enlisted in this city last spring and was sent to Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C., from where he was sent to France. His letter follows:

Somewhere in France, May 25, 1918.

Dear Mother: Before you get this you will know I am in France, as we all wrote cards before we left New York. We had a good trip over, all but the seventh and eighth days out, when it was very rough. Sometimes it seemed as if the old boat would tip over, but it always got back up again.

The rest of the time the weather was fine, nice and warm. All of the boys were seasick, but I was lucky enough not to be. We landed today, May 24th, and will stay here only a short time as this is only a rest camp. I may catch up with brother Jim here.

As I have come this far I would like to go the rest of the way and see some action. We did not see any sub-bots on the way over, so I will have to go to the front to see any fighting. The people over here seem glad to see us, as there was a big crowd at the docks when we landed. All we see here is hills and stone houses, but it is a pretty country where we are. One does not see any young fellows, only those in uniform.

I told you I would be in France in two months and here I am two months after I enlisted. If I had waited to be drafted I would not be here for some time yet. Will close now and will write soon.

With love to all, BURNETT.

LARGE CROWD GIVES SEND-OFF TO SELECTS

People Pack Station Yesterday Afternoon When Thirty Men Leave for Columbus Barracks.

Janesville's first July contingent of thirty selects was given a rousing send-off by a large crowd of townspeople who gathered at the St. Paul station yesterday afternoon.

The selects and escort of band and Company C. formed early Wednesday morning to the station in front of the post-office, while people thronged the sidewalks to witness their departure.

With the Bowler City band in the lead, the train started up Milwaukee street at 5:30. Company G was followed by the thirty selects marching in ranks.

The station was jammed with people by the time the band arrived. One car was reserved for the local selects and one car which had come in at 5 o'clock was occupied by the selects and their escorts.

The train was scheduled to leave at 5:42 but did not pull out until nearly 6 o'clock.

The men at their evening meal enroute and arrived in Chicago at 9:10 o'clock last night. After a short rest they boarded a Pennsylvania special, along with a quota of forty-five men from the Ellettsville district at 1:30 and arrived in Columbus at 9:30 this morning.

COMMITTEES NAMED TO SOLVE HELP PROBLEM

Two committees have been appointed by the Rock County Council of Defense to co-operate with the Gazette in sending all available labor of any kind to help out the farmers.

Don Van Wert, George Selgmiller, and George Helmsbecken have been appointed as the committee from Beloit and the Janesville committee will be composed of the following men: A. M. Church, Hugh Craig and Andrew Gibbons.

CANNING CLUB WILL MEET TOMORROW

Members of the Canning club will meet in the domestic science room of the High School, tomorrow afternoon, July 10th, at 2:40 o'clock.

Any vegetables in season, such as spinach, peas, and beans, may be brought for canning at this time. Regarding the picking of peas for canning, the instructions advise that this vegetable be picked early Wednesday morning, shelled and placed where it is cool until the time of the club meeting. Each member is asked to bring her own cans with rubbers and covers.

THANKS CHIEF FOR SENDING OFFICERS

A. E. Bargren Head of Rockford Police Department Sends Letter to Chief Champion Thanking Him For Co-operation

Chief of Police Peter D. Champion has received a letter from A. E. Bargren, head of the Rockford police force, thanking him for the co-operation he gave the Rockford police on July 4th, by sending two of the Janesville police to Rockford.

Chief Champion sent Alonzo Cain and Jay Hymer to assist the police in Rockford, during the celebration held there on July 4th. The letter received is as follows:

Mr. P. D. Champion, Chief of Police, Janesville, Wis.

My Dear Chief:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for the most efficient officers you sent us to assist in handling the large crowds during our Fourth of July celebration. On the fourth day of July celebration, one of our thousand had more than one hundred thousand people in our city, and there was not an accident, robbery or pickpocket reported to this office, all of which was due to the untiring efforts and efficient work of our visiting officers, working in harmony with the local officers. The men you sent were of high class calibre and showed by the way they took hold of the police game, and were a credit to the department they represented.

Allow me to express my sincere appreciation for the courtesy extended to us in this matter and to assure you that I will gladly reciprocate at any future time when you may need the services of any of our men.

Again thanking you and with kindest personal regards, I beg to remain, Yours Respectfully, A. E. Bargren, Chief of Police.

STOUGHTON YOUTHS ARRAIGNED IN COURT

Fremont Jacobson and William Grahn Both Seventeen Years Old, Claim They Were Served With Drinks at Saloon Of J. W. Hemming.

Fremont Jacobson and William Grahn were arraigned in municipal court this morning on a charge of being drunk in this city last Saturday evening. They were the two seventeen year old youths from Stoughton who accompanied Tennie Bailey on Saturday morning and in court yesterday morning and on his plea of guilty he was given twenty-five dollars and costs.

Jacobson and Grahn were given a severe lecture by Judge Maxfield, coming from a day down to get liquor. Both admitted on the stand that they had been to Edgerton several times wet. The youths were sent back to Stoughton, but were summoned to appear on next Wednesday to testify in the case pending against J. W. Hemming, 110 West Milwaukee street for selling liquor to minors.

Each of the young boys were taken to the Hemming saloon and identified it as the place where they had been served their drinks. They claim that they were served with one glass of whiskey each, and three glasses of beer each.

NEXT SUNDAY FRENCH NATIONAL HOLIDAY

Several Churches Of County Asked To Commemorate This Day by County Council of Defense

The 14th day of July is the French National holiday and is to be commemorated all over this country in the larger centers, as a day of Allied Tribute to France.

In accordance with this plan the Rock County Council of Defense, respectfully urges the several churches of the county to recognize this tribute in their public service on that day in such manner as is agreeable with their public gathering for worship.

It is suggested that the tribute may gather about: 1. The historic contribution of France to us; 2. The inspiration of her heroism in this national test. The closer fellowship of the world people because of comradeship in struggle and suffering.

J. A. Melrose, committee.

TRAINLOAD OF SELECTS IN JANESVILLE MONDAY

A trainload of 249 selects will pass through the city over the Northwest road, next Monday afternoon, at three-fifteen, leaving at three twenty-five for Columbus Barracks. The men will be from the counties of Sauk, Grant, Iowa, Dane, and Jefferson.

FACING TEN CHARGES IN U. S. COURT, DEBS DENIES TALKING AGAINST WAR

Eugene V. Debs.

A federal grand jury has indicted Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader and four times Socialist candidate for president, for violation of the espionage act. The indictment, which has ten counts, followed a speech by Debs at Canton, O., in which he is said to have praised the I. W. W. and the Bolsheviks; declared the purpose of the allies in the war to be the same as that of the central powers—plunder; declared himself as guilty as Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, recently sent to prison for ten years for violating the espionage act, and urged that Debs not worry over the charge of treason to their masters. Debs denies that he talked against the war or otherwise violated the espionage act.

FORGER WILL KNOW FATE NEXT WEEK

W. N. Bentley Arraigned in Municipal Court on Charge of Forgery Pleads Guilty. Will Be Sentenced Next Tuesday.

W. N. Bentley, who was arrested in this city about three weeks ago for attempting to pass a forged check at the First National Bank, was arraigned in court this morning on a charge of forgery and his attorney W. H. Dougherty entered a plea of guilty.

Mr. Dougherty went into detail about the crime and made one of the strongest pleas ever heard in the municipal court for leniency. He asked for a last chance for Mr. Bentley who is sixty eight years of age and has served eleven years in different prisons.

District Attorney Stanley Dunwiddie in closing his arguments for the state contended that the defendant had wasted time and time again to reform and that the only thing that could be done was to lock him up and let him write his checks where he could not get them cashed.

Mr. Bentley forged a check on F. H. Green in this city about a year ago and Judge Maxfield adjourned the case for one week and stated that he would pass sentence after Mr. Green had been reimbursed for his loss.

FARM LABOR AGENCY NO. 150.

Newspapers in cities of 20,000 population or more, opened up Employment Service offices as a patriotic service for their communities. A newspaper, the best medium through which the labor needs of a community may be ascertained and farm workers, either regular or emergency, advised of opportunities. However, it is impossible for the Agency to supply the desired help and a sufficient number without the assistance of the farmers desiring laborers.

By applying to the Farm Labor Agency No. 150 at the Janesville Daily Gazette building, farmers may be obtained, and by filling them out the government is able to get some idea of the prevailing conditions, and remedy them if possible. The farmer is pressed for help by indicating that he will advance transportation the government will send him a man.

CHICAGO MARKETS Chicago, July 9.—Common grass-fed packing hogs are being discriminated against more than ever. Monday's receipts, while fully up to the average Monday quality, carried a fairly liberal proportion of the common to medium grassy sows that were hard to sell.

Armour had some hogs in direct from other markets and was out of the trade entirely. Other packers ignored the common class of swine and on that account the market was dull and but little better for hogs of that grade, while the best sold 25c higher than at the close of last week.

This is a reasonable condition and sellers expect to see a still wider spread in values as the season advances, because the proportion of grass-fed stuff is likely to get larger. The scarcity and high price of old corn is an incentive to use pastures to the limit. Many old sows and common barnyard sows are being marketed because of the relatively high prices being paid for these hogs.

Cows and heifers sold steady and quite freely. Calves were on a par with the close of last week, with the demand rather good. Stockers and feeders sold slowly.

Good Steers Sell Readily All good cattle and more especially anything with weight sold readily at strong prices. This included steers from $16 to $18. The low end of the market, made up largely of common and medium light weight, heavier cattle, was slow and dull, though values were no worse than at the close of last week.

Most of the common to medium steers sold at $16 to $18. Cows were steady and the market active for the good kinds at $12 to $13. Common and medium dragged a little at $8 to $10. Veal calves sold steady at $14 to $15. The packers and feeders met with a weak demand at $9 to $12.

Quotations: Fancy steers $17.00 @ 18.00. Good to choice steers 16.25 @ 17.50. Common to med. steers 13.50 @ 16.25. Yearlings 18.75 @ 7.80. Fat cows and heifers 10.50 @ 13.50. Canning cows and heifers 6.30 @ 7.75. Native bulls and stags 7.75 @ 12.00. Stockers and feeders 8.50 @ 12.75. Pigs to fancy calves 12.00 @ 17.00.

Hogs Advance 15 to 25 Cents Under the influence of light receipts estimated at 35,000 and an active demand the hog market enjoyed an advance of 15c to 25c on all good kinds. This took in the bulk, as quality was very good.

Top elevated 13 to 17.40, the highest since May 27th. The bulk of the good hogs changed hands at $17 to $17.30. Common to good packing grades at 16.25 @ 16.50 were not much higher than the packers and feeders discriminating severely against this class.

Eastern shippers bought rather freely. About 7,000 hogs were carried over, mostly of a common packing class.

Quotations: Light butchers 17.20 @ 17.40. Light bacon 17.10 @ 17.40. Good heavy 16.90 @ 17.25. Mixed packing 16.80 @ 17.10. Rough to heavy packing 15.85 @ 16.25. Pigs to best pigs 14.50 @ 16.75.

HEINIE GROH LEADING NATIONAL LEAGUE

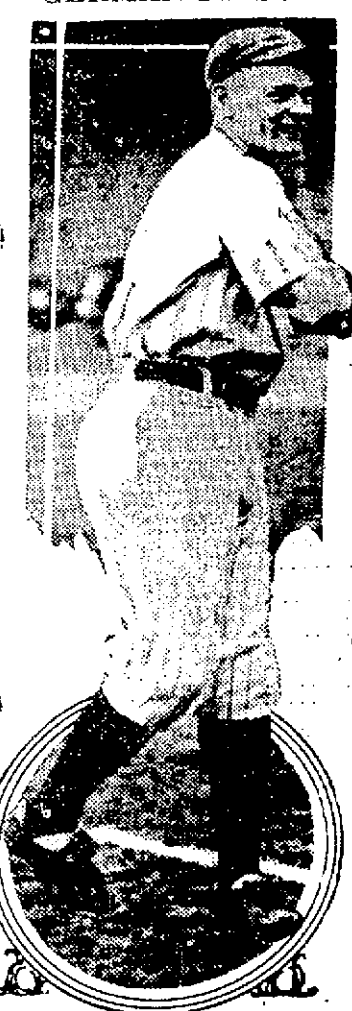

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Chicago, July 9.—Heinie Groh of Cincinnati, is the new batting leader of the National League, depositing Fred Merkle, the Chicago first baseman, averages reeased today, giving Groh a mark of .350 with Merkle trailing a point behind. Jake Daubert, the Brooklyn veteran is also batting .349. The Cincinnati infielder, fourth in the list a week ago, went on a batting rampage, driving out ten hits in his last six games. His stick work included three doubles and a brace of triples. The averages include games of yesterday.

Max Carey of Pittsburgh, who is leading the base stealers, added seven to his credit, bringing his total to thirty-four. Roush of Cincinnati, and Burns of Brooklyn are on even terms for honors in sacrifice hitting, with sixteen each. Wickland, of Boston and Crisco, of St. Louis are tied in home run hitting with five. Groh, Burns, of New York, the leading scorers, has registered forty-eight times. Chicago, which is giving New York a sea-saw fight for first place honors, leads the club in batting with an average of .278. The Giants, however, are on top in fielding with .971. Leading batters for thirty or more games: Groh, Cincinnati .350; Merkle, Chicago .349; Daubert, Brooklyn .349; Smith, Boston .341; Mann, Chicago .322; Williams, Philadelphia .320; Pascher, Chicago .317; Hollocher, Chicago .311; Rigbee, Pittsburgh .302; and Schmidt, Brooklyn .299.

JONES' RESIGNATION CAME AS A SURPRISE

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
New York, July 9.—The resignation of Fielder Jones as manager of the St. Louis Browns came as a surprise. The Browns were not conducting themselves like prospective pennant winners when he quit, but nevertheless they had been showing signs of a club with prospects as a winner, and the baseball fans believe that Jones had gathered in the nucleus of a good ball club.

EX-YANKEE HURLER GERMAN PRISONER

Cliff Markle.

Official advices received at his home town in Waco, Tex., state that Cliff Markle, former Yankee pitcher, is now held prisoner by the Germans in Limbourg. Markle volunteered for war service last summer. He had been starring in the Texas league when the Yanks bought him and catcher Walters. Later Markle went to the International league.

WAGNER OUGHT TO FIELD A THOUSAND IN THE COUNTY HOME DEFENSE LEAGUE

Hans Wagner, idol of National league fans for years, has signed up with a new league. He has enlisted with the Home Defense league police of Allegheny county, Pa. He has been sworn in as an officer and will have jurisdiction all over the county.

were with the club in 1917, only one of two remained, and with Tom former Federal leaguer, Malsel and Gedeon, secured for the Yanks, and Gerber and Demmitt brought back from the minors, the Browns proved themselves a club capable of winning many ball games on their first eastern road trip when they climbed into the first division.

Compared to other major league clubs the Browns, as they stand today, have probably as good prospects for the future as any war time team, and so far, this season, they have shown to better advantage than had been expected.

Jones explained that he did not feel equal to the strain of managing a major league club when he handed in his resignation. He doesn't have to depend on baseball for a living, as he has extensive lumber interests in the Northwest.

As a player Jones was one of the most consistent in his day, both in hitting and fielding. His feat of winning the world's title in 1906 with the famous "Hitless Wonders" is a feature in modern baseball history.

GAMES TO BE PLAYED AT VARIOUS PLAY-GROUNDS

Tonight at seven-thirty the older boys of the Webster and Washington schools will play baseball at the Washington school grounds. These games to the older boys who work during the day and it gives them the chance to partake in the games while otherwise they would not. Tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock the girls of the Webster and Washington schools will play ball and immediately after the baseball game the younger girls will engage in a game of cage ball. The schedule is the same for the Adams and Webster schools and it is hoped that a goodly number of people will turn out to witness these games as they all promise to be fast and exciting.

MORRIS MILLER

Many of the former stars of the lawn tennis courts have shown a splendid sporting spirit by competing in the tournaments this season to keep the flame of the game burning brightly. The appearance of Theodore Roosevelt Pell as the defending champion in the great challenge match of the middle states championship stands as a remarkable record of self-sacrifice for the sake of the game which no has followed and adorned.

Before a racket hit a ball across the net it was a foregone conclusion the game that Pell was destined to defeat. Undoubtedly Pell also knew the fate that was in store for him. He has practically had no competitive training on practice was at once evident in the rallies as soon as he began the match against Walter Merrill. As the challenger Merrill had had the benefit of a week of stirring action on the courts. Furthermore he has been playing lawn tennis of week ends and may fairly be accellerated as being near to the top ten in 1911.

Fred Toney of the Reds is having a tough year. He recently lost seven games in a row.

Arlie Latham, who once played third base for the champion St. Louis Browns under Charles Comiskey, is now in clover. Latham, long after he had retired from active work on the diamond, was John McGraw's assistant and chief turnmaker at the Polo grounds. But the famous baseball player was released and dropped out of sight.

Latham now has regained a place in the limelight as the baseball instructor of King George of England, who is learning much about America's national game. Arlie is a champion story teller and isn't a bit bashful.

which probably will enjoy many hearty laughs. The Pirates who are now in the service of their country include no fewer than six pitchers, two catchers, a first baseman, a second baseman, two third basemen and an outfielder. The pitchers are Earl Hamilton, who is in the navy; Harold Carlson, in the infantry; Marston Hillman, in the aviation corps; Bill Evans, aviation corps; Elmer Ponder, in the infantry, and Walter Mails, in the infantry.

Catcher Fred Blackwell is in the aviation corps, and Catcher Willard Smith in the infantry. First Baseman Ray Miller is in the navy, so is second baseman, Bill Webb. Third baseman Norman Boeckel is in the navy, and Third Baseman Hoke Warner in the infantry. The outfielder is Casey Stengel, now in the navy.

The Reds who looked like pennant contenders at the start of the season, are now pressing the Cardinals for last place.

George Smith, former Columbia university pitcher, who was released by the Giants to the Cincinnati club a few weeks ago, has come back to the Giants. He was sent to the Reds under an agreement which stipulated that when Matty had no further use for him, the Giants should first call on his services, an agreement similar to that which governed the transfer of Jim Thorpe to Cincinnati and his return to the Giants in 1917. This is Smith's third season in Cincinnati, though he spent a part of last summer with the Rochester club, to which he was loaned by Manager McGraw, and he is slowly but surely developing into a most competent boxman. It is probably that he will now take his place as a regular on the Giant hurling corps.

Heinie Zimmerman has returned to his old form and Heinie Groh is once more the second best third baseman in the National league.

AL DEMAREE IS CONSISTENT WINNER

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)

New York, July 9.—Al Demaree has been the most consistent winner of the Giant's pitchers this year. Demaree has not only made a good mark in the pitching averages, but he has been winning his games against the best clubs in the league.

When John McGraw recalled Demaree, many fans wondered how the Giants could use him. In 1916, pitching for Philadelphia, he was sixteenth in the league, and that was his best season. He only worked his games against the weaker teams of the league. Last year he played part of the season with Chicago, finished with New York, and narrowly escaped the "coloso run" column.

When the season started this year McGraw was short of dependable pitching material. Fredy Schmon was practically out of the game, and "Slim" Sullivan was not in condition. Jeff Tesreau turned out bad, and McGraw was forced to depend largely upon Anderson, Demaree and his recruit material.

Al was then given the first real chance of his major league career. He took his regular turn in the box against all comers and his turn came much more often than it ever had before.

Demaree conquered his old failing of giving way in the sixth or seventh frame. He has been holding up fine and hurling a much better brand of ball than ever before.

ACE OF ACES TELLS OF AIR BATTLES

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Chicago, July 9.—"My strategy depends entirely on my will," declares the "Ace of Aces," Lieut. Fonck, in an interview with Henri Simon, published in the June 8 issue of the Plane News, printed by soldiers in France, and just received here. "I put my will in operation to maintain tranquility in my mind and body," continues Lieut. Fonck whose intertid aerial exploits behind Jake Daubert, the flesh and blood military world.

"When one fights it is necessary to fight with all one's faculties. I will to use mine, and then I am guided by age of favorable circumstances. That is how, in this battle where I brought down six German planes (will you be so good as to say that 2nd Lieut. Fontaine and Lieut. Battle followed me in this battle, which was a warm one), I say I simply got into the midst of the enemy planes. You understand my object. I jampered the maneuver of each of them and I watched and at the first lack of decision of the part of the adversary I took advantage of his mistake and brought him down. I got the two first in ten seconds, and also the two last."

"Were you accompanied in the last exploit, Lieutenant, the day before yesterday?"

"Yes, I was in company with Sgt. Burgere and 2nd Lt. Tonseller. I always take some young and courageous aviators with me to give them training and put the finishing touches on them. The conduct themselves marvelously. So it was in this last combat that I brought down three planes, and the fourth was probably brought down by Sgt. Burgere."

"How long did it take you to bring down these three planes?"

"One minute."

"That is quick."

"Yes, for you, but for me it was a little long."

"What minute in your career as a military aviator, was the most tragic?"

"Tragic? No. Say most thrilling. It was when I brought down six six planes. It was the first time I was engaged with such strong opposition. Remember, there were two enemy pilots, and I brought down my two last machines in a patrol of nine German planes. One could not miss his shot and under the circumstances, I assure you, I had need of all my coolness."

"But the thrill?"

"That came afterwards. When the battle was over the reaction came. I was a little nervous, but I can overcome that. One must have coolness, and I have got it, and now that sort of thing amuses me."

And finally waving his hand in farewell, Lieut. Fonck got in his gray machine, took the steering wheel, and darted off at full speed.

MARINE RECRUITS FIND TIME FOR FUN BETWEEN HOURS OF DRILLING FOR WAR

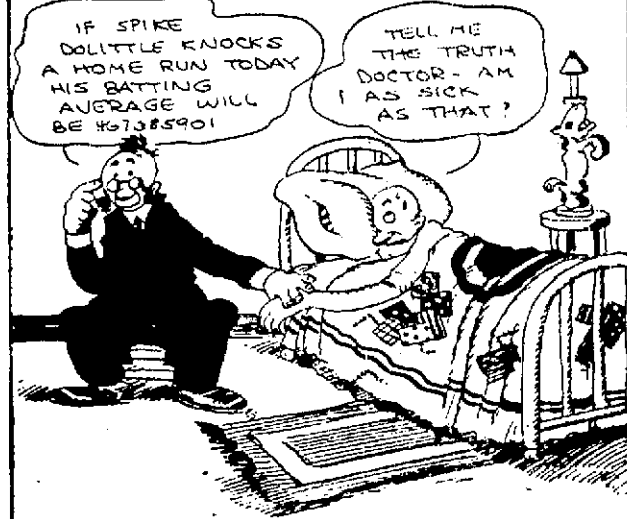

Fatty Arbuckle, movie comedian, entertaining marines, above, and marine baseball players at a machine gun.

Marines in training at Mare Island training station, California, manage to squeeze in a bit of fun with their intensive training for overseas service. The upper picture shows them hobnobbing with Fatty Arbuckle, movie comedian. Arbuckle played pushball with the boys. Fatty's side won the contest because the opposition got weak in the knees laughing at Fatty. The lower picture shows members of the ball team training a machine gun with which they hope to slip a "straight fast one" across the plate at the front.

French military railroad is run through house in path.

Military railroads have the right of way in war torn Europe. They're built on the most direct line and all obstacles are overcome. The picture shows how the engineers, building a road for the allies on the western front, found a house in their path. They cut a hole through the wall and ran the tracks right through the house.

ARREST HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT IN CHICAGO

John Grampke of This City, Arrested in Chicago Yesterday Carrying Concealed Weapons—Given Lecture and Sent Home.

John Grampke, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grampke of this city, was arrested in Chicago on Monday for carrying concealed weapons. Young Grampke, accompanied by his pal, Albert Gower, left this city to spend the day seeing the sights in Chicago. Evidently because he had read of the terrible things that happen in the big town he was induced to carry concealed revolver and two bottles of beer. He told the Chicago police that he had been helping his father, who is sexton of the Oak Hill cemetery, and that his trip to Chicago was a little vacation for him.

SPECIAL DRILLS ARE BEING HELD NIGHTLY

Company G's army of the Wisconsin State Guard represents a busy scene these days. Quartermaster Sergeant Hagen is busy with the issue of the extra camp equipment, stenciling each article issued to the members of the company, taking receipt of the same and also fitting the men out in their new O. D. cotton uniforms. Drill Sergeant Jesse Dixon, has a dozen more recruits "rookies" if you please—handing them the fundamental principles of the soldier. There was regular company drill last evening, followed by guard mount, tonight the recruits meet for drill.

Beginning there will be the second company drill of the present week, Thursday recruit drill, and Friday evening regular drill at which every member of the company intending to go to Camp Douglas must be present, when rolling of the blanket rolls, packing the equipment and special instructions will be given. The company leaves some time early Saturday and will not return until Friday the 19th.

HAY ASSOCIATION MEET AT CLEVELAND

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Cleveland, Ohio, July 9.—The question of obtaining adequate transportation facilities for the expected big hay crop this year, was the most important matter before the annual convention of the National Hay Association, which opened here today, with nearly a thousand delegates present. Despite the reported large acreage some delegates declared the market price would soar as it did last year, unless enough freight cars are provided. Railroad congestion prevented movement of thousands of tons of hay last year, it was said.

The Little Mother of Shack

by ZOE BECKLEY

From Sally's Diary.
London, July 29, 17.—One of those "low days." Muggy and gray without; moody and gray within. I find I am a very ordinary young woman, weak and wobbly, feel suspended between earth and heaven, afloat in space, unable to grasp anything firmly. It is this horrible inaction. A host of memories leaping at me across an ocean and half a continent, from a man who does not need me. A host of prayers leaping to me from across this little strip of English channel, from wounded men who need me. And I alone in this great strange city, my hands idle, my heart a prey to remembrance of what was and yearning for what is to be.

But I shouldn't say I am alone. Dr. Rolf is here, and other adorable friends. But somehow their pleasant company is like a slip of milk when what you really want is something to set your teeth into and tear. Must have loving work to fill my empty heart or shall I go mad?

Oh, my dear, my dear, my dear, my thoughts in thoughts of others. To weary my body in service. I am like a drinker deprived of his glass, or a man who has lost the key to that was snatched away. I slipped at this and that substitute—draught of action, a draught of "Dr. Will," a draught of "Rogers' Landis," and now I have nothing but an insipid dose of London "slights," which leaves my thirst unsatisfied.

London gives me a strange sensation of bafflement. Our language is supposed to be the same. Yet there is something so different about the English speech. English manners—even the English smile—seem to be turning to left instead of right—that I miss the comfortable kinship I expected.

July 30.—Feeling better. "Dr. Will" took me for a series of rides today which criss-crossed pretty much the whole city. My heart went out to this nation of bearded women who are working for our country's freedom with such inspired zeal. "Dear Dr. Will," he protests so little at my gloominess. Yet this unspeakable word is "See these thousands upon thousands of woes so, bravely borne! How infinitely greater they are than thine eyes see." When I am with him my eyes see the broader horizon. When I am alone again my vision narrows to my petty self.

July 31.—"Dr. Will" has had me placed upon his staff. I am to take orders from him, work with him, and under his direct supervision.

Has he read in my heart the need of his guiding strength? Or what? "Dr. Will" is I believe, the most splendid man I have known, except my father.

August 1st. Thank God, we are to leave for Paris immediately—word has come at last! My spirit rises like a soaring bird.

August 2nd. On the channel boat. I could not sleep in that hideous, stuffy cabin. I am writing by the light of a tiny shaded lamp in a corner of the saloon. The steamer pitches frightfully and it is not for nothing that I should be as ill as those poor souls below. There is no moon. The decks show no lights. I have a strange feeling of crossing from one world to another, wrapped in mystery.

August 3d. FRANCE! Or is it just a dream? The events of the past twelve hours leave me feeling like a parrot in a cage which some one has whirled round and round. I could glimpse nothing clearly, not get my breath. A lightning-like transfer from the channel port to Paris. Arrival at the great station in the early dawn. Crowds of informed and uninformed, woe-begone and blundering, and boxes and canvas bags, filled with their poor belongings. A swift rush to a little hotel run by two women. A few hours to rest and bathe and see to some last details. Then another loading into a packed train, a few last shouts of officers and porters, and we move off in a word, oppressive silence toward our glorious goal.

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

Courtesy to those who wait on one is a sign of good breeding. Also the lady or gentleman takes pains to be courteous in shops, stores, and never shows irritability there.

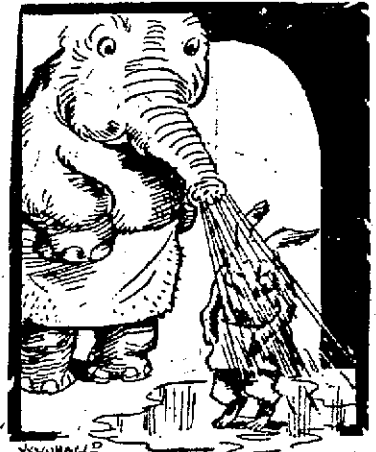

BELLE C.: When you receive a photograph of a gentleman friend living in a distant city, it is proper to inform him of its safe arrival and to express your thanks. When introduced to a gentleman, it is only necessary to say, "How do you do, or repeat his name distinctly and smilingly bow your acknowledgement."

PEELED FRIEND: You were most fortunate in your experience with your solid correspondents, and since he so forgot himself as to warrant losing your friendship, I can only say that you should by all means return his letters and get my breath. A lightning-like transfer from the channel port to Paris. Arrival at the great station in the early dawn. Crowds of informed and uninformed, woe-begone and blundering, and boxes and canvas bags, filled with their poor belongings. A swift rush to a little hotel run by two women. A few hours to rest and bathe and see to some last details. Then another loading into a packed train, a few last shouts of officers and porters, and we move off in a word, oppressive silence toward our glorious goal.

Tales of the Friendly Forest

You remember in the last story I promised to tell you how Uncle Lucky got into a fight with a Turkish Towel. He was in the Circus Elephant's Turkish Bath House, you see, and he and Billy Bunny wanted a nice shower bath after their long Lucky mobile ride.

"Come right this way," said the elephant, and he showed them a lovely swimming pool on one side where Uncle Bullfrog and Ducky Doodles were having a fine bath. On the other side were little rooms all in a row. "What are these?" asked Uncle Lucky, as he saw a big bear coming out of one with a six crash towels in one paw and a big sponge in the other.

"Those are the Turkish Baths," said the elephant.

"But what are the Shower Baths?" asked Billy Bunny.

"I give the Shower Baths," said the elephant, as he dipped his trunk into the big swimming pool.

"Well you can give me a shower bath," said the gentleman rabbit. "But Oh, dear me, and Oh dear you and Oh dear Uncle Lucky! No sooner did the elephant turn on the water than the old gentleman rabbit knew he had made a big mistake. For would you believe it, that elephant squirted water out of his trunk all over Uncle Lucky until the old gentleman rabbit's ears were so full that he could hardly breathe, and if Billy Bunny hadn't turned the elephant's water off, he would have been drowned."

Cancer Has No Roots
So long as ignorance remains the chief attribute of man, credulity will lead him to his unhappy fate. Nearly every victim of cancer which happens to occur in a visible situation is called upon sooner or later to refuse the opportunity to be tortured with a caustic paste the nature and origin of which, as a rule, are sufficiently explained, for the credulous or ignorant victim, the hint that "father got the secret from an Indian." No one appreciates this joke better than the white man who has lived in contact with red Indians for a long enough time to know something of the value of their medicinal man-anties.

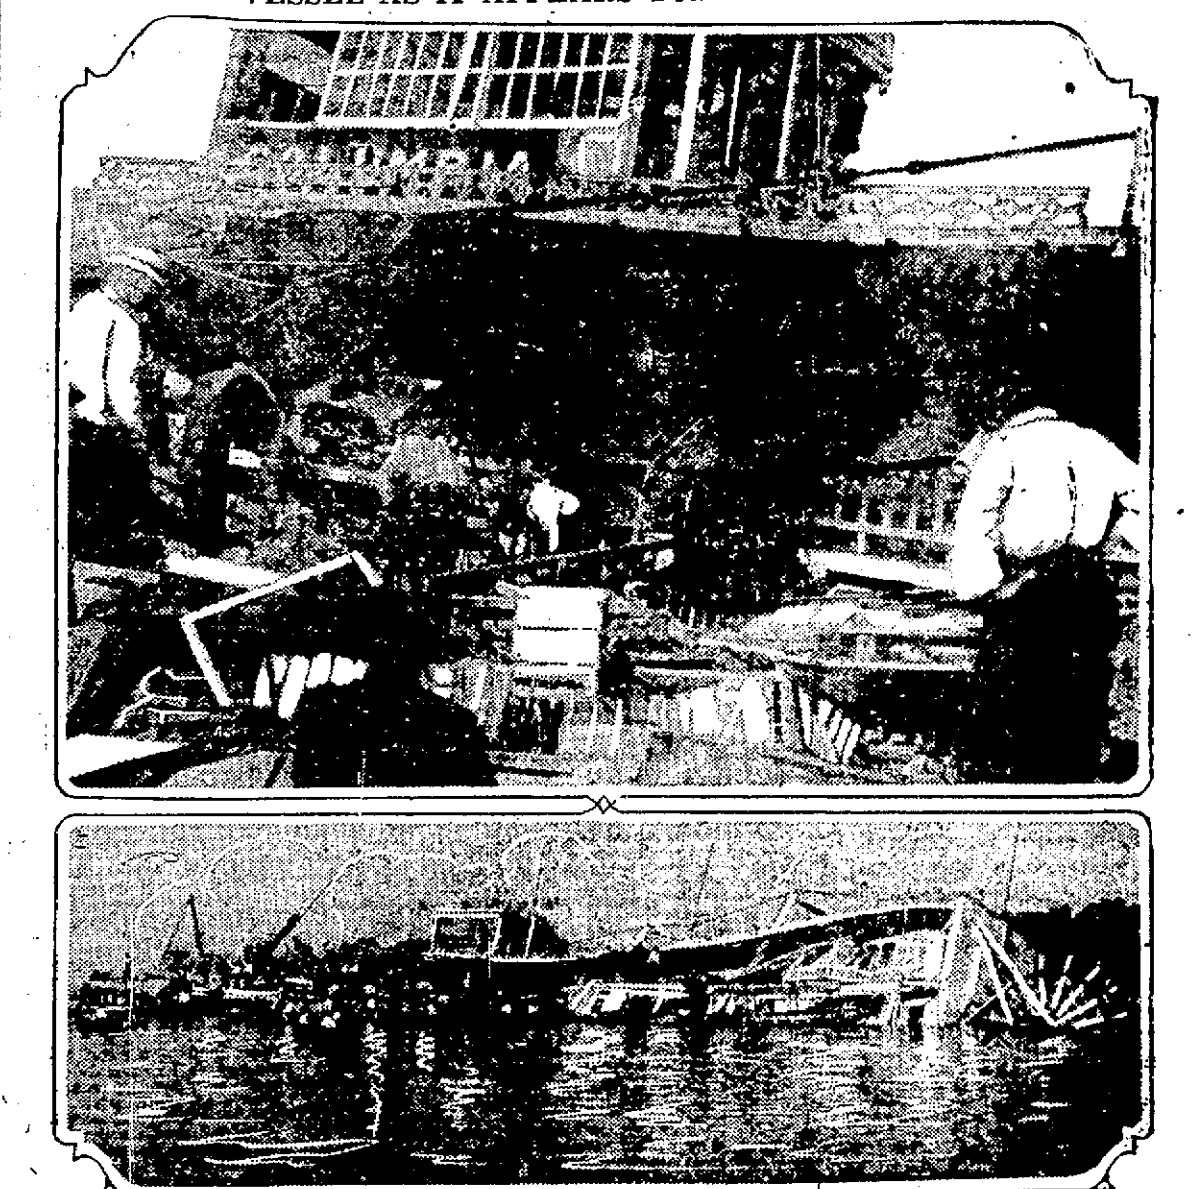

The fool idea that popularizes the cruel paste for plaster treatment—sometimes called "balm" or "oil"—is that cancer grows from roots, and if you can destroy the roots you can destroy the cancer. If this were really true it would be a very unfortunate thing for mankind, since not even early and radical surgery can proceed as ruthlessly as that, and the dangerous and futile cancer paste would prove quickly fatal if it were permitted to act long enough to destroy every offshoot of the cancer in the tissues. The trouble with pastes is that they destroy indiscriminately everything, healthy tissue as well as diseased, and despite soothing assurances no human power can control or direct the action of a cancer paste once it has been applied.

The basis of cancer paste is usually arsenic, so-called white arsenic, and a caustic acid which is the caustic and camouflaged. The "roots and yards" part of it is about as essential as the average nostrum.

If you have a mole on your skin you do not voluntarily submit to cauterization of the place with a red-hot iron, nor do you seek out an unclean, ignorant, queer old recluse and place your life in his hands.

What the uneducated call "roots" of a cancer are in reality branches or

REMOVING THE DEAD FROM SUNKEN STEAMER COLUMBIA; VESSEL AS IT APPEARS TODAY IN THE ILLINOIS RIVER

These pictures were taken last Saturday, following the awful disaster in the Illinois river near Peoria, Ill., when the steamer Columbia, with nearly 500 persons aboard, hit a stump or a sunken log and sank within a few minutes. About 200 men, women and children lost their lives. The steamer sank so quickly and with so little warning that hundreds of passengers had no time to put on life belts. About a dozen unused life belts are shown in the upper picture. Two men at the left are seen removing an injured passenger.

AND HE DID

I'LL GO AND TAKE A LOOK AT THOSE YANKEE TANKS, YET!

AND HE DID

He broke down, shakin' with colic. "Jinks," said "Roughly broken," "all that Briskers said goes for me. I count it an unspeakable honor to be thus sharing your last moments with the fellows here. Jinks, life is hard!" "You've led a blameless life, Jinks," spoke up Saddbush in a low tone. "When you're no longer with us, we can always have that to say—you've led a blameless life."

"Amen," said Noodleham, furtively blowing his nose.

"It's bound to come out offburt. It's bound to come to all of us, sooner or later," muttered Hemptstitch, "but you, Jinks, so young, so full of life and fire—"

He choked, and once more an oppressive, uncomfortable, strained silence fell upon the room.

At last Jinks rose without a word and went out, leaving the others with bowed heads and heavy hearts.

"In another hour," shuddered Ballblow finally—"in another hour, he will be—martaled."

CUTICURA HEALS TETTER ON BOY'S

Head In One Week With One Cake of Soap and One Box of Ointment.

Scalp Sore. Itched and He Was Restless at Night. Hair Fell Out.

"My seven year old boy suffered from tetter which started on the back of his head as a pimple. Then it formed a group of little bumps that would itch for two or three days and then run. His scalp was very sore and he could not bear to have anyone touch it. It itched and he was restless at night. His hair fell out leaving a bald spot."

"I saw Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised and I wrote for a free sample. He found immediate relief so I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Ointment and he was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Alice Harris, 2353 Scott Ave., St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 22, 1917.

With an apparent tendency to skin troubles you should use these fragrant super-creamy emollients for all toilet purposes. They prevent as well as preserve, purify and beautify. Sample Each Free by Mail. Address card: "Cuticura, Dept. K, Boston." Sold everywhere. Soap 10c. Ointment 15c. and 25c.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a very nice boy for about three years, and have been engaged to him for nearly a year. We have separated all the time except a month or two every summer, because we live a long distance from each other. He is expecting to join the army now. I want to ask you some advice about what I should do. I love him, my whole heart, soul and body and, for the past two years have compared all of the other boys I know and meet with him, and none of them could ever mean anything like as much to me as he does. I want to marry him this summer, but his father has a brother and a sister, who, at times, are not exactly in the best of humor with him, and they are not what anyone would call "cray." I should let this keep me from marrying the boy I love better than life itself?

Please give me your advice as soon as you possibly can. I am anxious to know what your opinion is on this subject of such vital importance to me.

I would not advise you to marry the boy. There may be a bad break in the family, foolish-mindedness for instance. The most satisfactory thing you can do will be to get the family, physically and mentally, straightened out and you also if possible.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am considered good looking, am neat in my personal appearance and I have a good education, but I am not popular with opposite sex. Can you suggest any way by which I may become popular?

(2) My birthday will be in a few days. If any gentleman friend should ask me when I want for a present, would it be proper for me to ask for a wrist watch?

(3) I am corresponding with a sailor whom I have not seen, would it be proper for him to call on me when he comes on a furlough and would it be all right for me to kiss him when he comes and when he leaves?

I have a very dear friend whose mother is against our keeping company. How may I keep him against his mother's will? We are both twenty-one. Would it be possible for me to fall in love through corresponding?

THE FOUR C's.
(1) Be an all-around girl. Dance, play tennis, row or do anything else which may be popular with the boys you would like to know. It was not proper for the girls of the past to park in the sports which the men enjoyed, but today they have learned to expect it, and the girls who are liked best are the ones who can be the best comrades in everything.

(2) It would not be proper unless you are engaged to him.

(3) It would be all right for him to kiss you, but you should not kiss him.

(4) If he really loves you, you will keep him in spite of his mother's wishes. Just be yourself and do not think of losing him.

(5) It would be possible, but it would not be wise to marry without a more substantial acquaintance.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am eighteen years old and am desperately in love with a boy who is two years my senior. He has gone with me for almost a year, and has never told me he loves me. How can I find out if he really does?

DIMPLES.
A boy of twenty, if he is of practical temperament, usually will not propose to a girl. He realizes that he is too young and not in a position financially to marry. Do not try to make him confess love. Be a friend to him for a few years and he may ask you to marry him. If I were a girl I would go with other boys too, and not depend entirely upon the one boy.

The Poetry of Homely Nations.
Don't you love to see anyone do a thing which is so different from the thing which is done on the other day. I watched a fisherman starting his motor boat. He turned a screw, levered a rope and, in a few seconds, somewhere else and, in a few seconds, she was moving from the wharf.

It seems to me there is a sort of poetry in such swift, unhurried, competent motions—a sort of physical rhythm that rises from the perfect mastery of the door, the perfect flow in the sequence of his acts.

The Carpenter Walking Along the Ridgepoles.
Take, for instance, a carpenter walking along the ridgepoles and working with swift accurate blows to drive a nail home; or a mother giving her baby his bath, handling the exquisitely, fearfully, fragile little bundle of small perfections, fearlessly and easily, unbuttoning, unpinning, washing and tying, buttoning and pinning again, all with swift, unfettered surety.

It is to the engine, swiftly detects what is wrong with it, and, with perfect surety, loosens a bolt, tightens a screw, takes out a part and puts it back, and restores to you your engine with all the parts working in harmony, once more. The pleasure you feel in happiness, is perhaps your chief emotion, but haven't you also a sense of satisfaction, harmony and rhythm in the process?

Typist and Housewife Both Make Poetry.
The skilled typist, inserting her paper, dropping her carriage into place, and then touching the keys, and swiftly and surely, the housewife, as she moves about the kitchen, putting the finishing touches to each part of which will come to the table smoking hot and properly flavored—do, you, not feel, along with admiration, sense of beauty and sense of order and rhythm in the acts of these?

You have heard of the music of the spheres, the poetic of the orderly, rhythmic movement of the stars in their courses.

Are not the orderly, rhythmic

Khaki Kool Suit FOR DAYS IN TOWN

This may be served as the meat course for Sunday dinner in place of roast beef. This shortcake will prove a favorite method of using the leftover meats.

Pork Chops and Escalloped Potatoes.—Roll up pork chops with water or milk. Lay pork chops on top of these. Season with salt, pepper, dredge with flour. Bake in even, turning the chops once. The fat from the meat will flavor the potatoes nicely.

CANNING AND PRESERVING

Corn Salad.—Eight large ears of sweet corn, three large onions, one small head of cabbage, one bunch celery, three red peppers (take out seeds), one-quarter cup salt, three pints vinegar (cider), one and one-half pounds brown sugar, one tablespoon mustard dissolved and stirred in at last. Chop all; cut the corn. Boil twenty minutes, add mustard. Can.

Beet Salad.—Two cups chopped beets, two quarts chopped cabbage, two cups sugar, two cups grated horseradish, salt and pepper to taste. This makes one gallon and will keep all winter.

Green Tomato Salad.—One peck green tomatoes, one head of cabbage, two large onions, one bunch celery, three green peppers, two pounds brown sugar, one tablespoon mustard, three quarts vinegar, salt to taste.

Cut up tomatoes, sprinkle salt through them, let stand over night; drain. Put all through a food chopper. Boil one hour. Can in fruit jars. Delicious for winter with meat.

Elderberry Blossom Wine.—For each quart of blossoms cleaned from the stems put in a stone jar four pounds of white sugar, one gallon of water, boiling hot. Stir, until dissolved, upon the stove, then pour on the blossoms and let stand till nearly cold. Add small teaspoon of good yeast, one lemon sliced. Let stand three days, then stir and add the froth.

Put into jars, tie a cloth over top, let stand three months, then rack off and put in bottles. Keep in a cool place.

Spikes-Covered Mountain.

There is a huge mountain near Pachuca, Mexico, which has the appearance of being covered with spikes. They are natural formations of rock, the origin of which is somewhat involved in mystery.

Test of a Good Husband.

Our position is simply this: That no man is a good husband who doesn't notice when he comes home that the sitting-room curtains have been moved to the dining-room.—Dallas News.

Out of the Mouths of Babies.

"Papa," said small Harry, "if you and I were the same size, would you say and do things to me that make me fighting mad?"

This khaki kool suit is just the thing which will please the man who is summing up the count of the season. She will find that it is equal to any of the demands of the day spent in town. Tan and blue is the color scheme. The coat and skirt are tan while the waistcoat, piping, and wooden beads on the ends of the stole are blue. The stole may be worn tied or loose.

SUBMERGED MICROPHONES ARE SUGGESTED TO WARN NEW YORK OF SUBMARINE RAID

Chain of microphones suggested for New York harbor.

A project for throwing about New York harbor a deadline for submarines is outlined by H. Gernsback in the Electrical Experimenter. The illustration shows how a chain of submerged microphones connected with a central switchboard is suggested, to listen for the sound of the whirring submarine propellers. Upon the receipt of reliable noises, waiting destroyers are dispatched to the indicated vicinity and the submarine hunted down.

I told all that I had heard from home and of my life in "olden times" but, however, presently, a faraway look in her eyes and judged that she was not hearing me. Again she whispered: "Sally."

"She has been at school in Albany for a year," I said. "She is at home now and I am going to see her."

"You love Sally?" she whispered.

"Better than I love my life," I answered.

Again she whispered: "Get married."

"I hope to in 1844. I have agreed to meet her by the big pine tree on the river bank at eleven o'clock the third day of June, 1844. We are looking forward to that day."

A kind of shadow seemed to come out of her spirit and rest upon her face and for a moment she looked very solemn. I suppose that she divined the meaning of all that. She shook her head and whispered: "Money, that!"

A tall, slim woman entered the room then and said that supper was ready. Kate rose with a smile and I followed her into the dining room where two tables were spread. One had certain dishes on it and a white cover frayed and worn. She led me to the other table which was neatly covered with snowy linen. The tall woman served a supper on deep, blue china, and as they could cook in old New England. Meanwhile I could hear the voice of the aged nurse, a weird, empty, inhuman voice it was, uttered at intervals of intelligence. It came out of the troubled depths of his misery.

So that house the scene of his great sin, which would presently be flooded, a hundred times a day, by the unhappy spirit of its master. In the dead of the night I heard its despair echoing through its silent chambers.

Kate said little as we ate, or as we sat together in the shabby, great room after supper, but she seemed to enjoy my talk and I went into the details of my personal history. How those years of suffering and silence had warped her soul and body in a way of speaking. They were a poor lot, but I had lost my taste for speech. I could not let her voice was gone, although I had heard her.

Whole Family Sick

All of my six brothers and sister, as well as myself, have suffered since childhood from stomach and liver troubles and bloating. I thought I ran in the family but that I could never be cured, but, thanks to May's Wonderful remedy, since taking it nearly a year ago I have been enjoying the best of health and feel like a new person. I have no trouble from anything I eat. It is a simple, harmless preparation that cures the catarrhs and restores the intestinal tract and attacks the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. RED BLOODED MEN WIN OUT

They Are Always on Top

It is a fact that red blooded men and women are at the top in every walk of life. Men and women with the driving force of red blood, rich in iron and phosphates do things, they get results.

Red blooded women are the heads of the happiest and most contented homes, they have the will and the desire to be real companions and helpmates.

Leadership and happiness is only for the man and woman who are willing to keep their blood and nerves strengthened and nourished with iron and phosphates.

A prominent doctor says, "It is a shame that so many men and women lack the clean, red blood and strong steady nerves to achieve their ambitions. It is all the more so because thin, watery blood is unnecessary, as rich, red blood and strong nerves are within the grasp of everyone. Phosphated iron makes pure blood by making new blood. It gives strength, brings color to the cheeks, increases the weight and appetite, drives away the blues and those sleepless nights, steadies and renews your nervous energy, makes you feel like a live one once again."

There must be something to it. Everyone who tries it is loud in praise of Phosphated iron, and you have got to show people these days.

To insure physicians and their patients receiving the genuine Phosphated iron it has been put up in capsules only. Do not allow dealers to give you pills or tablets. Insist on capsules. Smith Drug Co. and leading Druggists everywhere. Advertisement.

FAMOUS FRENCH MUSICIANS, ALL WORLD WAR VETERANS, ARRIVE IN AMERICA, ARE RECEIVED AT WHITE HOUSE

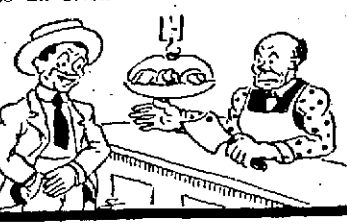

President Wilson at left, Edouard de Billy, French high commissioner, next to him, and members of "La Musique Militaire Francaise" at White House.

"La Musique Militaire Francaise," one of the most famous bands in the world, has been brought to the United States at the request of War Secretary Baker. The band was received recently at the White House by President Wilson. It was escorted there by Edouard de Billy, French high commissioner. Every member of the organization has seen military service from the Marne to Verdun. Most of them wear decorations for conspicuous bravery at the front.

Dinner Stories

A rather jovial person sauntered into an Irishman's butcher shop and smiled to himself as he thought how he was going to have a little joke at the butcher's expense.

When his turn came, he said: "Pat, can you supply me with a yard of pork?"

Pat turned to his assistant without batting an eye and said: "Give this gentleman three pig's feet and hurry up about it."

"Doctor, I can't pay you for this visit, so I'll just let you send me a bill. I hope you won't take it hard," whined a patient.

"Quite the contrary, my friend. If every man who has no intention of paying would be as considerate as you it would save me a lot of writing and about $50 a year in postage."

"Why don't you take a vacation?" asked the office pest.

"I can't stand vacations any more," answered the irritable man. "A vacation simply means that my wife worries about the house while I worry about the office."

"If I was rich, darling, would you love me more than you do?" he asked.

She—Well, I might not love you any more, but I would look forward to our wedding day, with a great deal more impatience than I do at present.

JANESVILLE : : WISCONSIN

The Pot Is Boiling Over With Sizzling Hot Bargains For Everyone

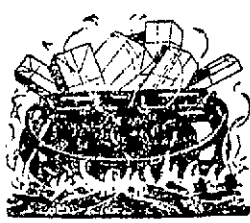

Undoubtedly one of the most important, if not the most important, July Sales we have ever held begins here Thursday morning. Merchandise is scarce; wholesale prices are steadily rising; many classes of goods are being taken by our government for war purposes. Yet, in spite of these conditions, each department will offer from day to day, extra choice lots of broken assortments, odds and ends, surplus stocks and remnants of stylish, seasonable merchandise at unexpectedly low prices. Every department is co-operating to make this the greatest event of many seasons, presenting wonderfully important saving opportunities to you.

From the low prices quoted here now, you might believe that the old pre-war schedule is coming back again. But don't be misled. These

Here's the Answer to the Mystery of
"What's In the Pot." Every Department
In the Store Has Many Offerings To Contribute To This Bargain Feast. Selling Begins Thursday Morning, July 11th, and Continues Through Saturday, July 20th.

self-same July Sale goods are costing more every day, in the whole-sale market. In many instances, we could not buy new goods for the prices we're now offering them to you. We can almost give our un-qualified guarantee that practically every July Sales offering will be higher in price the next time you try to buy it. Buy now and buy heavily, of goods you'll need for summer, fall and even next year.
